Ellen,

If it is still your position that the debtor's finances and loans are beyond the scope then I don't believe we are in agreement. Your clients deposition was noticed and scheduled once before and there was no issue with raised as to the categories of examination, I was under no obligation to reissue the notice as there was an agreement to the new date.

I believe I responded to the other email you had sent, having two email chains with you, it may have gone unnoticed.
